

PURPOSE: For students enrolled in Moody Online programs looking to fulfill requirements with on-campus courses.

This document lists the campus-to-online course equivalencies for Moody Online (MOL) programs. Not all requirements listed are required in all MOL programs. Accordingly, students must confirm their program requirements and the applicability of courses before and after registration using their Program Plan and Academic Requirements Report.

Important: On-campus courses are only available to online students if the instruction mode is compatible with online learning. On-campus instruction modes compatible with online learning include Highly Flexible (HyFlex), Online Synchronous (or Zoom classroom), and, in some cases, Hybrid. Online students are responsible for checking with instructors of on-campus courses before registering and, if necessary, establishing how they will participate as an online student. Read more about instruction modes here.

On-campus courses differ from online courses in content, session dates, structure, assignments and due dates, and expectations. Student is responsible for understanding all requirements by communicating with the instructor and/or reviewing the syllabus.

The following is a list of specific MOL courses also regularly offered on the Chicago campus. Not all of these courses are offered every semester, and online-friendly instruction modes are not guaranteed.

- BI-1111 Old Testament Survey
- BI-1112 New Testament Survey
- BI-2230 Bible Introduction
- BI-2280 Hermeneutics
- ED-2220 Human Development
- GSU-1110 College Writing
- GSU-1112 Research Writing
- GSU-1120 Intro to Psychology
- GSU-2250 Intro to Philosophy
- MS-1100 Spiritual Life in Community
- MS-1102 Studying and Teaching the Bible
- MS-1104 Music & Media for Ministry
- MS-1105 Intercultural Engagement
- MS-3300 Making and Leading Disciples
- PS-3330 Communication of Biblical Truth
- PS-3342 Foundations of Leadership
- PS-3382 Care of the Min. Leader’s Soul
- PS-4430 Narrative Messages
- PS-4463 Cult. Dynamics of Congr. Ministry
- TH-1110 The Church and its Doctrines
- TH-3306 Biblical Ethics

The following is a list of MOL courses which may be substituted with on-campus alternatives:

MOL Requirement	On-Campus Substitute
BI-1103 Reading the Old Testament	BI-1111 Old Testament Survey
BI-1104 Reading the New Testament	BI-1112 New Testament Survey
BI-2201 Interpreting Scripture	BI-2280 Hermeneutics
BI-4406 Interpreting Romans for Teaching	BI-4410 Romans
TH-1105 The Old Testament and Theology	Old Testament Bible (BI) or Theology (TH) elective
TH-1106 The New Testament and Theology	New Testament Bible (BI) or Theology (TH) elective

Next Page: On-Campus Options for Satisfying MOL Academic Disciplines (Electives)

MOODY BIBLE INSTITUTE

CAMPUS-TO-ONLINE COURSE EQUIVALENCIES – UNDERGRADUATE 2024-25

The following is a list of on-campus courses that may be used to fulfill the various MOL academic discipline (elective) requirements. Each course listed fulfills 3 credits of the corresponding discipline.

Discipline	On-Campus Option
Critical Thinking & Math (CRI)	GSU-2208 Intro to Probability and Statistics
	GSU-2232 Physical & Financial Wellness
Oral and Written Communication (OWC)	CM-3311 Performing Scripture as Dramatic Text
	ED-2200 Teaching the Bible Practicum
	ED-2201 Communicating Biblical Truth to Adolescents
	GSU-1120 Speech Communication
	PS-3330 Communication of Biblical Truth
Social and Behavioral Sciences (SOC)	ED-2220 Human Development
	ED-2222 Adolescent Psychology
	ED-3305 Disability, Society, & the Church
	ED-3340 Marriage and Family Systems
	GSU-2210 Intro to Psychology
	GSU-2213 Intro to Sociology
	MI-2208 Race, Poverty, and Biblical Justice
MI-3311 Intercultural Communication
Humanities (HUM)	Any BI (Bible) course
	Any GSU Literature course
	Any GSU Language course
	Any MU (Music)
	Any TH (Theology) course
	GSU-2250 Intro to Philosophy
	GSU-2226 History of World Christianity I
GSU-2227 History of World Christianity II
Open electives	Any course not required for degree program. Additional credits from Academic Disciplines will apply as open electives.